Certificate of Sexual Offenders Against Children and Adolescents is now issued online

In compliance with Law No. 6572/2020 and Resolution No. 1570/2021, the Judicial Information Office, under the Judicial Statistics Directorate of the Supreme Court of Justice, informs the public that the online processing of the Child and Adolescent Sex Offender Certificate is now fully operational, effective Friday, May 31, 2024. The implementation of this system coincides with the National Day Against the Abuse and Sexual Exploitation of Children and Adolescents.

Post

The Certificate of Sexual Offenders Against Children and Adolescents is now issued online.

The tool, developed by technicians from the General Directorate of Information and Communications Technology (DGTICs) of the Supreme Court of Justice, and worked on jointly with officials from the Directorate of Judicial Statistics, will allow the requesting party to obtain the document free of charge without needing a username and password by accessing the institutional website of the Judiciary www.pj.gov.py in the section located in the upper right part of the site, by clicking on the REDAM/RAS banner.

The applicant must enter their document number and the IC (located on the back) of their identity card. Once the report is processed, they can download it free of charge in PDF format to their device. It is important to note that the report will only be generated for individuals who are not registered in the Registry of Sexual Offenders Against Children and Adolescents.

The digital tool will alert applicants to visit the nearest Judicial Information office in cases such as: individuals registered in the RAS (Registry of Persons with Disabilities), foreign documents, ID numbers starting from 7 million, and alphanumeric ID numbers. For any inquiries, please contact the Judicial Information Center at (021) 421-307, extensions: 2846, 2264, and 2895.

The implementation of this platform - which will facilitate obtaining the document without having to go to any courthouse - not only saves time, but also makes it more environmentally friendly by reducing paper use, since the certificate is digital.

Article 14 of Law No. 6572, which creates the National Registry of Sexual Offenders Against Children and Adolescents, establishes that:

"Every person who works directly or indirectly with children and adolescents must have a certificate issued free of charge and online by the Registry, valid for 6 (six) months, which will state whether or not the person is registered as a sexual aggressor."
